

CAAA 2013 International Events

CAAA invites you and your child(ren) to attend two abacus and mental arithmetic competitions in Taiwan this summer. Not only will your family enjoy an international cultural exchange trip, your child(ren) will have the opportunity to compete at the international level with students of diverse backgrounds and cultures. Furthermore, they will forge new friendships and develop a perspective of abacus culture they've never had before. Those who participate in these enriching group activities will have an amazing summer experience to remember. Plus, there's something for everyone - teachers will have the opportunity to attend various seminars, during which they will discuss the newest innovations in teaching methodology with other educators around the world.
